A Thank You

I have written these poems in May 2026 inspired by my friends love, I will give the hand written manuscript to them as the time comes for it. Thank You Both!

I invite You dear reader now to focus on Yourself and what the following poems mean to You.

Waiting

Hello Dear,

It is time once more to meet in the endless dance of all.
We will meet as time will come,
once again in the arms of us.
Then the time will come to create another “us”
me and you combined in us.

In the belly, the child will rise and live through us.
The tunnels of hurt, lust, and pleasure
we all overcome, as is meant to be,
to transform.

Then the one so awaited will come through us
the little soul deciding for us, as always was decided.
The little one waiting and looking,
waiting for the right moment and seeing if the paths align,
if we are truly the chosen ones
for another “us.”
It chooses us as we choose it, combined here and whole up there above.

A Dance

The awaited will come once more.
As trust becomes whole,
time merges around and forgets all worries.
Time will come to surrender once more as all comes to us.
And from ashes comes dust.
As this world turns, all else will spin.
As this world dances, we will dance too
in the dance of eternal flames,
in the dance as is above:
holy matrimony, divine coupling.

All is Right

The energy flowing through us is meant to be.
The energies interchanging are all meant to be.
The songs intertwining and seeking release, the dance as it will come with another “me” — an “us” of two: me and you.

We together as one should be.
And one will come.
We as One.

Born & Reborn

And a time will come when all opens to all.

For the plan is here to be (re)born.

For here to be is all to be.

From two comes one, or two, or three, or more.

Freedom

Freedom will come to all souls as meant to be in the great plan of all.
The time will arrive for all conscious life to live and lift each other up in the endless dance of life here and now, and spread through time.

Time will come in some timelines,
here and now or parallel, then and there.
It will all happen as always happens:
for us and the future,
for all children of the One.

A Star

All maternal and parental power will rise in all for the love of all children of this Earth.
It will happen if Earth does not separate and break anymore, but instead holds and helps until no more suffering remains.

The stars will hold and support until there is no more.
And the day will come when Earth and Sun are no more,
yet a new star will be born and maybe the power will transform.

Descending

Transmute out of love, forgiveness, and hope.
It will happen to all,
only if they want it and all decide to come.
Only then will the power descend,
and all luck and destiny
will hold what is meant to be held.
The power of two sings
as a mating call of eternal love.

Relax

And next will come another,
a perfect one for you.
And then you will see
all that is meant to come.

Relax and breathe.
Relax and let go.
Breathe and relax.
Push and squeeze.
Let go and hold.
Hold and breathe.
Let go.
Relax.
Do it once more.

Waiting

Stay peaceful and hopeful.

Quiet in mind.

Wait for what comes
and what signs are shown.

Let go and release.

See what the universe holds in store for you and the other one which contradicts all.

It will be a time of pleasure, pain, and hope.
It will be joyful for all who rejoice and rejoin the familiar pathway.

All will clear up once all is done here
on Earth, or elsewhere.
Here and now.

Joy

Once more joy will fill your hearts.
Once more the gates will open for the soul to arrive.
Once more holy matrimony and divine wisdom.
No longer intervention, but divine creation.

To all mothers of now who will hold it dear —
the songs of time never disappear.
It will come once more.
He will arrive, or for him and her.
All will sunrise in your hopeful mind.

It will be a time of awe,
of endless joy and bliss in measure,
and for all, all will come.

Once and for all.
In all pathways.

The Moment

Holy love
in all ways,
in unity.

The parents with child.
Holy matrimony.
Parenthood is holy.

All in favour of the moment.
The moment will come
for all to come,
as is meant to be in all sorts of ways,
for all ways.

The divine moment
will arrive,
for will is
and always survives.

In the never-ending dance
all will flourish
and all of us will rejoice.

For all is sacred
in these times, day with the other
when time arrives.

Let only hope
in holy life
lead all you hold dear.

Rest Now

Dear child,

Rest in care, in happiness and peace,
in restfulness and serenity.

Sleep well and wait.

Be good and all you want to be.

Be yourself, as all is how it is and as it is supposed to be.

And just as it is — a perfect reflection in its own way.

Merging

The polarities merging, creating new futures.

Two made one and one made another, combining and mixing all races as one.

The mother the Sun,
the father the Moon,
in a different way.

The new way would allow fathers as Sun/Sol/Ra, mothers as Earth/Moon/Luna (Gaia), cosmos.

The dark energy of the mother with the feminine energy, and the glowing energy of the male counterpart as light —
these joining together will create an explosive star, for the creation and manifestation of a new life.

Love of the Universe

The solar system combined in the dance of the universe, in universal love.

The unconditional love a child and parents have.

The mother to child, and child to all.

The father to mother, and all forevermore.

The start of life is the explosion of the sun.

The implosion can also happen depending on the gender of the child.

One for all and all for life as One.

It will Come

The polarities merging in that dance of two.
They will come as always known.
It will happen and needs to be,
as all holds what is there to see.

The Dreams

The child manifests in the eternal dreams of the mother.
Those dreams she gets once pregnant manifest in the child.
The mother should hold positive dreams, not those of fears, for they will raise deep within what the child is meant to see and be.

The child will want to restore the parents,
to feel and find more love.
It will try to fix all it sees as distortion in the system of a family, to heal and ensure all that is meant to be right or wrong.

The child makes the distinction very probable.
No need to worry much —
the truth is right in the child's mind.
All listens to the child.

The child holds the wisdom of all.
All as it is meant to function.
The ship of parents allows familiarity and motion, possible to land safely on the ground.

The child comes and chooses the life it wants in its own way —
his or hers own way —
for parents to see all that is meant to be seen.

Allow yourself to sleep and rest now, dear child,
of cosmos and us.

A Great Love

A love so deep it touches the deepest spots in all of my being.
A love that melts all that it can, all that wants to melt.
A love without words, a world between us.

All for us, never against us.
A love that grows with all that it can.
A one love, no matter how long it lasts — forever in our hearts.
A love touching, a love deep,
a love melting a love curse.

Open Hearts

Heart opening, warm and resting.
A love so strong it bridges places.
It is a bridge between time and space,
always drifting toward each other,
drifting through all to find the One.

The One of the opposite side,
the one of the other polarity,
pole sports, stars —
together as One,
between us, space and time,
between us all.

That is divine.
Between us all, in our lives, all is all.
Ever-present, always growing,
until it fills up all of us,
reaching places never thought to be found.

Finding

Across the realms we will find each other.
Across continents the pull will be,
as is and meant to be.

Two polarities attracting,
positive and negative connecting,
finding each other as always in all lives, searching and finding — or finding without search

Never needing to search,
just needing awareness of the probable match.
With our consciousness we will find each other once more,
in this life too.

Grounding all we can,
together at last and as One.

Together through All

The substance of our love will be the divine glow between us.
A love spiritual, reaching heights and depths, falling and catching, rising and guiding,
helping and merging,
finding the steady in us.

Together as it is meant to be,
together for all to see,
to feel the possibility of a love so strong it needs no more hiding —
a world between us,
but it is getting closer.

A Love Strong

I am sad to come to this conclusion,
but a love will come stronger than ever before.
All loves have taught you the most important lessons.
Now ready yourself for the most important path:
together as One.

Walking through life as counterparts,
finding each other through guidance of divine forces,
of our higher beings.
As above, so below.

Being in love is the most beautiful and sacred thing it can be:
loving and being loved,
understanding and being understood.
No need for talking,
because the eyes, hands, and bodies tell all.

The Paths

All our stories we will know.
We will find out all.
And all will know of all.

Never hiding,
always bridging,
always finding out the paths,
all the pathways in between,
all the stories of before,
all the future plans —
it all not mattering anymore.

Now is the now.
The most important part.

The Now

Staying in the now makes the love last,
for however long it is meant to be.

The choices are ours.

The choices of love divine,
out of freedom and surrender to the One.

Loves Confrontation

Our loves will confront us in the deepest parts.
Our love will transform us in all that needs to no longer exist.
It will recharge us.

For energy we need to transmute,
walking and exchanging our human parts.
The ups and downs are all meant to be.
As the One to see,
we will see and guide.
We will wait for sunrise.

The Pull

A love so strong it bridges places,
across lands.
The pull so strong,
here on Earth pulling each other across oceans and continents.

It will come to last.
At last we will see each other, dear.
We will meet once more in light —
the dark pulling us in,
but the light glowing within.

The endless current of our line is never pulled apart.
The match will come —
a perfect one.
It always comes when the time is right,
ripe and ready for picking because aligned.

Believe in Love

With love all will be possible.
Faith and joy bring love to us.
With hope we do not have to hide it.

Hope, joy, and faith all for love,
across realms of time.
Love is alive and always will be.

Be strong in your belief.
It will be necessary for the times to come.
Rise higher in your power to find the one who is even higher above,
or settle and ground more into your energy to stay at that level currently and see if return is possible.

It all might be.
Probabilities are possible,
but choice and timing are important.

Do not stray from your path of love.
It is alive.

Believe in love's embrace.
It will hold you forever,
in all ways possible.

The Threads

Threads of life hold us together.
Through time and space we are connected.
Across all realms we will find each other once more here on Earth.

Our divine counterparts will succeed in helping us find our way to each other.
We will find our way.
No way is preselected.
It will come as meant to be.

Do not look or think too much — just feel inside.
Your heart will race.
Your soul will burn.
It will set you alive.

Burn through all worlds.
Allow yourself to dive deep into the invisible ocean that love holds.
Just as the universe is there for us,
so is love here for us all.
We just need to access all of it.

Now and forever in our arms as one,
combined in the divine arts that are alive.

Divinity

The old arts of lovemaking are divine.
They spread across time and come alive in your arms.
We are divine counterparts here on Earth, aligned to meet once more,
to build a nest together in our time,
just us two, together as one.

No one else in the mixture — just us.
In all of time, across time and space,
we have found each other and will find each other once more,
together here and now, in our own place and time.

Connected

Together in our arms we will find each other.
Together in one breath we will breathe together.
We as one connected —
me to you, you to me,
we to us,
us both as One.

Love is Alive

The love codes are alive in our lives, bright in our souls.
They align us with each other.
They pull us in and together into one.

Across space there are codes drawing us toward each other, learning about all that we are and all that makes each other alike and alive.

Alive and bright,
with our future selves now finding probabilities for our lives together.
Somehow changed now that we are one — somehow different than before,
and so wonderful.

Perfection

Hopeful of the future, hopeful of our lives.
Hope and joy spreading through us, making us come alive.

Us both unique.
Our shapes fitting,
like two perfectly aligned puzzle pieces forming a beautiful work of art.

We are the best masterpiece in the cosmos,
just like other divine counterparts:
two poles exactly on opposite sides of the scale,
merging together and pulling toward one.

Meeting once More

Let us dance across universes and rivers of time,
our threads of life so intertwined.

Let us come as one planet together,
meeting as the one together.

No more apart,
no more just looking to find each other,
knowing that it is that child that is needed.

Traveling physically to find each other here,
feeling the energy guiding us and pulling the string between us —
the energy burning bright,
yet causing a great peace to settle into our hearts,
a knowing we fit together at last.

Guidance

Let love guide you.
Let it flow through your veins.
Let it come alive in you,
full of gratitude and warmth.

Thanks to feeling and being full of it all,
love spreading across and through all of you.
It being the substance that holds all together —
the magnetic energy between us.

The Oneness

The two poles intertwined together, holding each other in love.
Here as one, here as the only one.

One together,
moving as two, breathing as one,
dancing together in the oldest dance known to nature,
combining our bodies, combining our hearts,
our fluids flowing, energies guiding the paths away alike.

It Will Come

The loving energy above will pour down on you once you find the right one.

It will arrive now, not far away.

It will be a force unstoppable, for all to see and hear.

You will know once you see and learn.

It will come —

a love like no other,

a cosmic force moving through another.

The forces will combine and create another life:

a loving union, sacred,

a holy place, a new trinity —

the one of the true triangle of love.

Heights and Depths

Love and its power will burst you open.
It will consume all and rise above.
It will come down and rise again,
an ever-growing beast,
coming and going until more is flowing.

Reaching high and low in love's endless plan, depths unseen, heights unspoken.
All is seen in those moments —
the stars above and all the planets,
the moon in the dance of all's love,
love above love and only love.

The Mixture

With endless power we will call upon you once more.
All will flow.
It will burn all worries away.
There will be no pain.

It will guide and burn bright,
flying to heights unspoken and depths unknown.
The love flow is endless.

It is the thread holding all universes together,
the thing holding humans and other races together —
the Andromedans, the Arcturians, the Pleiadians, the Lemurians, Atlanteans and reptilians, Aquarians with the Naturians and more too.

It will all be combined and mixed in the bowl of eternal love.
The cauldron will be shaken.
The mixture of love's substance stirred.

The ground will tremble as the power rises.
The father and mother will unleash thunder.

The glowing bolts will come.
The electricity will flow.

All will come when the signal arrives.
The forces of mother and father combined in the mixing glass,
put together in a perfect path,
both combined and intertwined forever.

They hold and never end,
always continuing.
The energy never slowing,
just emerging, ever-going,
changing, transforming, cutting all lies,
moving and searching for the One.

The energies combining are forever rising.
The cycle coming and unbecoming.
It all lasts as it always lasts —
either about one more, or birthed no more.

The pattern will repeat or slow and transform,
in oneness and gratefulness for all,
to hold dear and love.

The Power of The One

Love is eternal.

Love is the power which binds us across all.

Across all spaces and timelines,

it will come once all can come once more,

in safety at home.

It will happen once more as the right time comes,

holding us all in love's embrace.

It will come down.

The One will be written.

It all unfolds.

The endless power of the One will come and rise above,

in an endless story of all,

once again in One.

As Above will come once more,

solid in substance, here physical once more.

This love ever-searching, always finding, never trying, never dying.

It will come once more,

stable as ever and most loved.

It will come once more.
The “it” which is no more.

The one at the end of love’s flow is fulfilled.
The one that comes through is the example of love.

It Will Come

The gentle love of a lover's embrace will show you the way.
It will be guided and it will arrive once more.

Never give up on love, joy, and hope.
Keep your faith in it all.
It will happen as meant for all.

The One you spoken for up above will rise once more.
The one you both are searching for will be found,
up above and below,
if it is meant to be and seen.

All unseen once more.
A glow, the stars aligned,
all at once in the endless dance.
It will be true.

It will come as love flows,
as always is and was,
and will be with love's promise.

A True Love

The true love even with ups and downs will still be forgiven.
Listen to the signs from all above.
Beware of those from down below.
Choose what to follow in the coming times.

Choose wisely which path to follow.
See what happens once time follows.
Just be guided by yourself.
It is your inner space.

You will see as you find a divine counterpart,
the one only meant for you.
You will see it is meant to be.

Maybe not now in this timeline,
but maybe another.
So stay hopeful and joyful,
as always meant to.

Be guided

Shake the ground upon which you stand.
Bend the timelines of above.
Write and listen to the patterns.
Beware and watch all that happens.

Listen to the voice inside us all.
Once it will happen what is meant to,
of your choosing,
all will move once more to align with your other one.

It all finds another place and time,
another form to find,
but once it will, all ready will be.

Create a heaven for the One to come.
Do not worry about timelines — all will align.
Stay in the now.
That is preparation for all things.

The Path

There are moments forever seen and planned in all life.
Find the other.
Bend the time.
Allow yourself to see the other life.

Drop all if needed,
and all will succeed,
as always in love,
when your and all love flows,
in and out,
in sunrise.

Love is Alls

If love was ours, we would decide our paths,
but love is whole — not mine or yours, but all's.
And all can access it anytime it wants,
for love's name calls us all.

All of us in God and love's name,
we will follow through with the power of love.
The sacred will unite in our eternal hold.

All can bend and try to break it,
but it will flow as everlasting and glowing love does.
It will bend, not break, as it always does.

The strong one stays alive for as long as it is meant to be.
Just wait and see.
The unseen forces of love join our universes into one.
Across space and time,
the ever-growing love will survive.

An We across Space

Hello dear love, let us wait once more to find each other across realms and times.
It will all come to be once more, you will see.

If not me another,
if not you then another us — another “we.”
Wait and see the unfathomable.

It will all happen once more,
as we observe the universe unknown and known.
We will face the music straight on,
and it will all come to be as all is meant to see.

We all will know what the future holds once more.
The brighter stars above will guide us,
as probabilities and energies pray in our hearts
for the love ever-present —
the love promised through time and space and the whole multiverse.

The Burn of Love

Our love will spread across all.
Our boundaries will unfold,
and all lovers will fall apart and together again.

It will be a dance of eternal love's flames.
Flames that burn all old away
and allow the new to settle in once more.

Breaking Boundries

As love unfolds, all will fold and break in natural patterns once more.

All will unfold.

What needs unfolding will unfold,
and all will break out of love's acceptance —
that which needs and wants opening and breaking.

All will happen as always meant to happen,
and all tears ever fallen will no longer need to fall anymore.
All that we need to face will be faced with ever-growing strength.

It will need no restraint.
If needed, it will break.
Let no safety hold you two apart.

The meaning is in each other's arms, holding us apart or together, depending on what we need and what the hold means.
All is perfect in love and hold.

All the good and the bad,
even that unknown,

is accepted in love's world.

It will come to be as all is meant to see.

Mothers Love

Love messages are eternal.

Love itself is natural.

The love of a mother holds dear in our hearts.

That is the picture of a love whole and perfect.

Not always as meant to be,

but always as it is — right for the future in whatever way it unfolds.

Expansion through Love

Love will expand all hearts and minds.
It will shine through you however it is meant to shine.
It will all come to be as is meant,
and all will see what they will.

It will all come as meant to be.
In all love, all is sacred and can be.
All alive in eternal love's hold,
all never judged,
never held apart.

Love flows

Our love is sacred, our love divine,
one for you and one for all,
never blind.

The love that flows forever calls.
The one love above always moves through us and within us.
The endless love flows as always in our dear universe's hold.

Like a mother with child, we hold it dear.
It all rests in our arms —
like mother to child.

For we love all as all loves us,
and we trust that love never tears apart.
Together as one, together always,
in all ways and worlds.

It will all come when the time is ripe.
Perfect timing is always now.
You choose the now.

Take responsibility for all the tests,
and remember your life for divine love to find you now.

A Forever Love

Our love eternal, our love not blind.

It sees and feels all that is ours.

Our love forever.

Our love with us, with you, and all dear children of ours.

We all see clearly what is meant to happen in some way.

It always wants to be.

For always, dear love, we will see and pray to all —
for love eternal.

Search

Never earned, just present, always present in the now.
All as one, all as none,
all that is in the Now.

The love eternal, always forgiving,
searching for the best match,
the truest match.

That is the truth.
That is the fact.
It will all search for the only one — here on Earth.

That is a search for the divine counterpart,
and it is a choice,
all that is here and now,
across space and time,
on Earth's plan.

Earths Love

Our Earth is sacred,
as all love is sacred.
A mother with love in it — Earth as a she, or as a he — bringing new life like every tree.

Our Earth, our living hold.
It all survives on Earth's ground.
The love of it,
the love of sun and moonlight,
and all stardust.

It all is love and eternal light.
The darkness too holds all tight.
All light is born from all stardust.

It all loves us and adds us to pieces,
as peace descends on all life forms.
They all, in their hearts, hold love —
some of it hidden,
but all for all.

It will come when hope is here.

Always hope for the best results in love, life, and joyfulness.

The Hope

Let all love come to life.
Let all children and births as well find their paths as always done.
Let all children find heaven as home,
or the best place their hearts and minds hope for.

Their own versions of truth.
Their own hopes reborn.
A child's wish — the strongest of all —
so important, always here,
as the time comes near.

Pray

Pray, dear child.
Pray for love now.

A Wish

Dear God, dear source and spirit,
I wish it deep, deep in my soul.

I wish for that one love,
a love eternal from the stars above,
a love that always moves across dimensions.

I hope to find the one aligned,
fully aligned with me and my body,
fully aligned with all that I am.

I want it deeply.
I wish it more.
I wish it to the stars and the planets.
I wish it to be made finally.

After waiting so long and discovering,
I finally wish for a love fulfilled.

Guide me on my way to the one that matches all —

the only one respectable,
the one I need and want.

You can guide me now.
Help me make the choices.

I wish for it all, never for nothing:
a love that cares, that listens, and hopes,
a love with a future, a beautiful one.

I wish for all this with the One:
the one love,
a holy, divine love,
where we move like in a dance,
where the worlds are a beautiful symphony.

I wish for above all a love here and now.
I pray this wish to all that listen.
I pray for love forevermore,
if it wishes.

A quiet Love

Sometimes it is love, and sometimes just warmth —
a warm feeling settling in the chest and body,
a feeling of grounded peace, gentle happiness.

A love grounded, quiet, compassionate, and peaceful.
Something some know and others wait for.

A love not blind,
but loving and growing with the other.
A love of long-term partners,
of long parents,
of children trusting.

A love that is acceptance and belonging,
respect and mutual understanding.
A love that is not binding,
never blinding,
always free,
as always should be.

Growing

A love means laughing, being happy and carefree,
like a child always happy,
though not always as life meant to be.

It is quiet and peaceful,
grounded in truth,
or explosive and intense,
always spontaneous and generous.

A love of lovers or partners barely met,
or alone.
Of wife and husband,
a love long and knowing.

Not spontaneous, but growing — always growing and reaching new depths.
Depths in knowing the other.
Heights in reaching God through love.

Parents loving a child,
children loving parents.

A mother and father all one here at the beginning,
and at the end all one somewhere here as children.

This never-ending cycle of birth of new and death of old,
birth and rebirth.

The Flames of Love

A love eternal,
like the dancing of flames never ending.
The flames inside us and the fire within.

As long as we live,
the longer we breathe,
the more capacity we have for love.

Love all for all.
Give all for love.
Stay all for love.

Love is ours, never-ending,
across realms and times,
shifting with us until there is no more time.

Climbing together and reaching godly realms —
me and you,
finally together at last.

Lovers

Hello love,
let us meet together once more.
Let us write each other letters — letters of love, our eternal ones,
across space and time.

Manifested into different beings,
yet still one with us at the core.
Here and now as two,
there in other spaces another two — perfect lovers of one whole, spread across realms and times.

In other spaces, a perfect meeting.
In another option, another pair of couples.
We all repeat in this eternal life,
all of us as one forever.

We only truly know if we live.
We can think and plan,
but experience directly is desirable and needed.

It all is as One —
One for All.

We will dance our dance and sing our songs
for all to believe,
for all to see.

Our dance up in space,
our dance here on Earth.
Our love eternal manifested in the now,
all at once.

We will know when the time comes to meet once more — another face, another time,
yet still the only one.

A different version from another holy direction, yet still a perfect match to our soul's being.

Meeting

Hello love,
we meet once more.

At the day and in the night,
alive in the dark.
Day and night we search each other.

We will make all possible together —
one to hold and one to grow, as is possible in all.

Our faith is in each other,
our love divine and eternal.

Our dance across all dimensions.
Grounding here on Earth,
we will search and we will find.

Across time we will ride,
through space without boundary,
through time without measure.

Find The One

We will dance once more in this life for sure.
Keep your eyes open,
heart open,
mind open,
to find the One.

You will know.
There will be signs.
Suddenly all will align.

As you know,
all will happen once more —
One and for All.

In our dance you will know and play the music.
In our touch you will find the pleasure.

All in One.
You will find me,
just as once always promised.

Promise me this:
all of me and all of you,
combined in this eternal life,
in the cycle of lives and data.

Our pieces combine to create life.
Bring down energy from above.
Bring all down into life.

All of our love will come from above.
Our love will manifest through us in the divine light of a body in One.

One life combined for the One —
the only one.

A child for life.
There we will find all we can.
In that we will find closure and measure our power.

That works out perfectly,
as always in the divine.

We will know when the time is right.
Do not worry.
It will come, as always.

Always in love to you and us.

Us

As always,
a time will come for us to meet again.

Other bodies,
other ages,
other places and origins.

The roots will reach deeper.
The old lessons of the wise will come once more.
An old magic remembered.

Old roots come back in our songs —
the lessons hidden for all life.

The Origins

Our love divine,
reaching across all stars.

We will find and grow into it all.
Our roots reaching back into all lineages.
Our origins realigning.

Reaching further back than thought or needed,
reaching back into all old roots,
across all races and stars,
all planets and heavenly bodies.

The further across we reach,
the more we will find sunlight with moonlight,
meeting our eternal bodies astrally, connecting and guiding each other here physically —
the sun and moon,
the black and white.

We will find that no walls remain between us.
It will be touch,
for us touching through each other once more.

Opposites

The total meeting of opposites — positive and negative, light and dark —
most strong,
we will find all across realms.

The path made clear for all to see.
It will come as always comes.

It will all carry our energy across,
connecting across the Earth, grounding here and now,
trance-like and profound.

Ground.
Touch down.

It will please us all
to find the way to each other once more.

Counterpart

Thank you, Lord,
for the divine counterpart.

Thank you for love's flow, guiding our paths and lives.

Let it pull and manifest.
All channels clear and open to receive new life
and find paths now.

The Connection

Peaceful, beautiful surrender to love, the divine.

It will all be as if a dream of holding each other dear.

Our connection across realms and times,
in each molecule,
feeling so alive.

In our lives,
love moving so deeply
through matter and dreams.

All will happen in the future of our times.
It will be as just meant to be,
here and now,
us alive in each other,
pumping our hearts full of love
for this planet's core.

The stars aligning
for our divine meeting, my dear.

One and at last,
for we will meet once more —
for our love
and all love above and below.

Telepathy works,
but not always while awake.

The Choices

All is meant to be,
as is my love.

Every up and down is preplanned.
You might not have made the best choices once,
but all is now.

Now choose best,
as you always have.
Make this clear to yourself:
you are always giving your best and acting from the best intentions.

So it is fine to forgive yourself.
Forgive.

Give all for yourself.
Take back all the shame,
all that feels misaligned.

Now find love once more.
All is good and will be.
What was in the past
is in the present now.

The New Chapter

All is as meant to be,
as it always was.

Here in the now.
Now you are reading this, my love — me here now writing this in the time of 20:34, 26.5.26.

You will know when there is time to know.
All will be made clear once you know and see.

Now relax and be.
All will be good as always, dear.

It is time to stop the old and start anew:
new life,
new path,
new way.

New skies are coming.
Close the old chapter.
All will be good as always is.
All love in the now.

A Gift

This is it.
This is now.
We are present.

Now see this, my love.
Stay here, present with me in the now.

This is my gift to you, my love.
All that I am writing here is these messages.

All is my gift of love for you,
out of love,
for love,
in eternal love.

A Decision

A big addition,
a big decision,
is coming your way again and again.

Stay together or decide anew.
See what life does and decides.

Do not race.
Stay still and hold.
Hold it all.
Learn to expand all boundaries and ways.

We Love You

For love I do this.
Love eternal.

Love here and now,
and love in all spaces and times.

Across times and spaces,
we love you and you us.

Now here we love you,
all of you,
just as you are.

Even if uncertain,
even if not sure,
deep down there is a feeling underneath it all —
a spark of love.

Even if there is doubt,
there is a missing piece
to make you whole.

The All

The All is All:
separate and one,
an “All in All” as we see it.

All the different sides and fragments of the whole made whole again.

Us all as one,
as we are —
the full spectrum of us all in One.

All in One,
just as is One.

In oneness of the All,
as we see it here down on Earth.

So many different versions and combinations of the one original template of human,

in many specific forms
and probabilities,
all part of a sacred plan.

Just as we are —
all perfect in our own way.

Just as all beings of water or nature in the forest.
A flower called a flower,
yet appearing in all forms and colours —
fragments and pieces of one whole, here with us.

Choose The One

Do not stay for something that is not perfection.
Do not wander toward something that is not right for you.

Stay connected to yourself and all that that means.

Do not let the other miss a step.
Dance instead of fight.

Love in love eternal.
Be in forever love.

Choose the one
who fits in all the right ways.

Not just one, but All.
Choose that One.

All for you,
as you all for him.

It is a dream.
Lead and hold onto it.

Do all for the dream of All:
love,
dance,
dream,
think.

Fulfil all you want and then even more
in love's eternal hold.

Be Certain

In love, do not sway.
Be certain it is what you want.
Do not hurt the other or yourself.
Be ever-present,
always loving and forgiving.

Find yourself as always held.
Dream of a future —
one to hold the both of you and all the dreams you share.

Be certain in all you want
and in all you do not want.
Be certain in words and actions,
in alignment and misalignment.

See all mistakes as lessons
in divine covers.
See all as love
and its lessons.

Lessons from yourself as God, yourself that chose

this probability,
this way,
and this path.

Remember

Be with the one you want.
Choose the only one —
one for all,
one to all.

Hold all and be with all.
All to hold dear,
all to dream of.

Remember all,
as all is always meant to be.

Remember, even as you sleep,
stay connected to the one that chooses you again and again once more.

You will know the pathway
once it chooses you.
Wait it out.

Choose, tune in, align,
then wait for timing.
Be prepared.

Let it still surprise you.
No plan but clear alignment
for you and the other — for you both and the mother.

The parents first aligned as God
which created you,
and now you as new God
of this life and all life, which will benefit all.

All for All.

The Vibration of Love

One way to find love
is to live it.

Find love in yourself.
Breathe and fill yourself up with it,
filling your cells,
a body full of love.

All cells vibrating with it and from that realising love's hold.

Breathing deeply and accepting the love that keeps filling you more and more.

Love is in the air.
You realise love is everywhere —
in all parts of your being.

The energy of you and love in all.
Across all, my love.

Find love in every being,
every molecule vibrating with it.

Love in love,
love out of love.
Love around,
love inside.
Love everywhere,
in everything.

All atoms —
love is holding them together.
Even the smallest particle vibrates with it.

Let us do this reality of love:
all love,
parental love,
love from the heart,
unconditional,
fulfilling.

Loves Shine

A love deep, burning bright.
A love with desire,
pain, and suffering.

A love shining wide and bright
like a star exploding from afar.

But what is love?
Is it all pain?
Is it all fire?

No.

Love is deep,
but not painful.
Reaching depths
but not hells.

Loving and not destroying.
Burning but not enough to burn.
Just being in love —

out of love
and for love.

A quiet love.
A mixture of Agape and Eros,
two dancers of divine love in one.

A heart full of Agape — unconditional love for all —
and one love, an Eros,
just for two.

For All and Two.
All becoming Two,
mixing and merging as one.

The Dance

All is love in this world,
all we see
and all we know.

Once more here on Earth we meet,
a combination of all so divine,
a combination of races across time and space.

It will all be as is meant to be,
with love's guidance
through inner and outer space.

We will rise once more
as partners of the divine, searching for each other in our never-ending dance.

Once more here on Earth as we know it, different for everyone.

Just as reality is — everchanging and moving.

Choose that which makes you happy,
and act out of love for the other.

Choose that which makes all easy.
Across the layers of the unconscious, create all
and let more flow into you through love's power.

Blossoming Love

With the power of love
we can change all.

Time itself will bend for love once more.
Love for All,
just as is.

Love desired as all is.
Handle love as the divine.
See love all around us.

In our hands it will blossom,
through our hearts,
through the current air now.

Never-ending,
always guiding,
sustaining the power of All.

All — All to be and all to see.
One and always,
for the deepest love possible.

A search across all dimensions,
a sacred everlasting journey
until two find each other in the cosmic dance of creation,
across all that is known,
and with that reach one's arms
for the One.

Your Choice

Love everlasting.
Love eternal.

The power of love comes from the parents.
Once you learn to accept it all,
then all is possible.

Across all, the power flows.
Across All it multiplies.
All power of the One.

The power of love grows.
You choose the reality you face.
If love is in the centre,
then love will grow.

Never more or less.
You choose what path you walk
for love and all else.

Choose wisely the energy you follow.
Choose the One you wish for in your life —
the only one you want and need.

Always just wishing,
never pressing.
If it does not work,
all cannot align.

The power flows through all actions.
Activate the roots,
then all will realise how all is.

All is the One.
The only one that decides.
All is You.

You crossing You,
you guiding You,
you following You,
you meeting You.

Spreading

Across all,
the power will flow.

The power everlasting and eternal,
across all substance.

It will spread to the deepest corners of cells everywhere.
It will flow across All.

Combining

The power of the One is love.
The power of love is eternal in its glow.

Love combines all across love's embrace.
All bad and all good intertwined.
All us, all you, all together.

Combining all species out of love for one another.

Never hateful,
always loving.
Never sad,
always supporting.

Always spreading
and glowing in love.

Acceptance

Love is eternal.
Love is not blind.

It sees and accepts forever the One.
It accepts all misalignments,
all mistakes,
all hopes,
and holds all
to make it better.

It dreams of better.
It gives hope.
Love holds all.
Love lets all.

Not accepting without seeing,
but seeing and digging deeper to make the other better — not better in your standards, but better in their own eyes.

Let the other decide what is right for them.

Do not force.

Let flow.

Do not dig.

Let go.

Make suggestions.

Give inspiration.

But do not force.

All will happen in its own time.

All is for the better —

not in your way,

but in God's,

according to the plan for the other in All,

in love.

The Core of Love

Love does not force.
It allows.

Love does not accept blindly.
It points things out.

Love makes mistakes,
but they are lessons in truth.

Love dictates life in the core.

For the core of all is love.
At the core of us is love.

In every being,
in every planet,
in Earth and the stars,
in every life across space and time,
the force pulling all together —
the atoms and all — is love.

The Flow

Love in every cell.
Love in every moment.

Look for love.
Search for love.
Let it flow naturally.

Do not force,
as forcing creates distance and resistance.

Do not force.
Let it breathe.
Let all inhale
and relax into exhale.

Decide

Love forgives.
Love expands boundaries.
Love is present.
Love is hidden.

Never knowing what will come,
not aligning with fear.

Alignment means now —
now in love with all.

See all as love,
and all will return love to you.

See all as hate,
and hate will come.

So decide what you want:
not fear,
but hope.
Not All,

but God.
Not fear,
but faith.

Faith in the One to come.
Faith that the perfect match will happen once the time comes.

Faith that the timing is right.

Do not push,
for then resistance comes.
Pull,
and all will come naturally to you.

Learn to hold all energy
instead of flowing out of fear.

Let love fill you eternally,
for always.

Let go of thoughts
and patterns you know.
Feel instead what is love.

Just let go.
In love's hold,
resting in love's hands,
like a baby,
let this Earth hold you.

Relax in it.
Into Earth.
Ground into love.
New alignment.

No resistance.
Just surrender
to that which makes us human.

Surrender to yourself
for that is what you are.

Fulfilment

Do not overflow
if you do not yet have fullness.

Overflow once you have fulfilment.
Flow then out of love
and for love.

Let it all be an exchange —
an exchange of energies of love.

Love in and out,
with every breath,
in and out.

Breathe love.
All is love.
Accept it.

Love.

A Wish

I want a home,
a home in a heart,

a hearth of a man,
a soul alive,
a dance of flames,

the eternal one.

I want a man
with whom I can dance,

sing and dance
to the moon and stars,

a man I can adore
as he adores me,

a love like no other,
of up here and above,

transcending all that is humanly possible,

a love like all,
true love eternal,
a love like us.

Us as forever.

Me and you,
forever entwined,
conjoined,
together.

Our minds and hearts
linked forever,

physically always together too —
not just in mind,
but bodies too.

Together mine
as I forever yours.

Our love eternal.

Now It Is Time
For You To Rediscover Loves
Embrace
